

We're currently using a Raspberry PI Zero attached to a TFT LCD Touchscreen. This just connects the parts without wires, and creates a place to attach the 'spine' cable that connects to the main control board.

Rev:
Id: 1/1